Handwritten text in Spanish, likely a continuation of the account or a related document. The text is written in a cursive script and is partially obscured by the binding of the book. It appears to be a detailed record of expenses or payments, possibly related to the same patronage as the document on the opposite page.
